STRANGLED HER WITH A ROPE

Positive identification of Duncan C. Mann, son of Orville C. Mann, wealthy resident of Oak Park, Chicago, as the purchaser of the rope which bound Mrs. Frances Thompson in her death struggles, the discovery of the key in his pocket which is said to fit the door to the death chamber in the house at 1242 Michigan avenue, and the recovery of a watch from Mann's pocket, alleged to belong to the murdered woman, form important developments in the Thompson murder mystery.

The finding of the key on a ring in the accused man's pocket which was identified by Mrs. Alice Hamilton, housekeeper at the Michigan avenue rooming house, as one to the bed chamber in which was found the nude body of the Thompson woman, mutilated and tied with a heavy clothesline, on the afternoon of July 2, was one of the sensational developments. Mrs. Hamilton was positive in her statements.

Walter A. Buckstrap, a clerk who sold the rope that was found about the murdered woman's throat and body, identified Mann as the person who had purchased the strangler's cord. He declared that he could not be mistaken.

A lady's watch with the monogram letters "D. P." on the back of it, is also another important clew. The police declare it belonged to the murdered woman. The letters on the watch correspond with the letters found on the handkerchief stuffed in the murdered woman's throat.

The case was continued to October 19.

FOOLED TWO HUSBANDS.

Instances of a man maintaining two wives in different parts of New York, are not rare, but it is not often that a woman slides into the limelight as the possessor of two husbands with whom she lived every day in the year.

Mrs. Catherine Strobel was such a versatile helpmeet, according to undisputed evidence furnished yesterday before Justice Aspinwall in the Brooklyn Supreme Court, where Philip Strobel was awarded a decree of divorce from her.

Judge Aspinwall was satisfied by the evidence that Catherine lived with Strobel as his wife at 247 Stanhope street, and with one Jacob Valusse as his wife at Atlantic and Grant avenues, Richmond Hill. She was aided in her dual household accomplishments by the fact that Strobel, whom she married in 1899, is an engineer and works at night. Valusse is a clerk and works in the daytime.

And she managed to reign in two households in 24 hours without serious difficulties, except on Sundays and on the rare occasions when her husband took a night off. Valusse did not work Sundays, but Strobel worked Sunday nights.

The term of Strobel's employment forced him to leave his home at 6 o'clock in the evening. Before departing he would eat what corresponds to a day worker's breakfast. As soon as he was out of sight, Mrs. Strobel would put on her wraps, close up the house and hasten to Richmond Hill, where she would assume her position as Mrs. Valusse.

The clerking Valusse wound up his labor at 6 o'clock in the evening. By the time he got out to Richmond Hill, his apparent wife would have dinner on the table for him. She would spend the night at Valusse's home and get up at 5:30 in the morning and prepare his breakfast.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little liver pills. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the small of the back, and is quickly cured by applying Chamberlain's Liniment two or three times a day and massaging the parts at each application. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

MARRIED AT 102.

Mrs. Charlotte Decker is dead at Seneca Falls, N. Y. She would have been 110 years old on November 27. Her father, Godfrey Resls, was a volunteer in the Colonial army and served until the colonies were free. Mrs. Decker could remember her father telling of the privations of the soldiers at Valley Forge. She remembered the year 1818, when no grain could be raised and it was sold for $5 a bushel.

Mrs. Decker was married to her first husband, Thomas Preston, in 1818. Following his death she married Albert Brainard. He died ten years ago, and in June, 1900, Mrs. Brainard was married to Samuel Decker. He was then 61 and Mrs. Decker 102. She had but one child, which died in infancy.

SAYS SHE WAS SOLD FOR $100.

That she was sold for $100 and forced by her father to marry a man she didn't love, was the statement made yesterday by 17 year-old Julia Madelin, of New Brunswick, N. J., who last Saturday, shot and killed Tony Madelin, to whom she was married four months ago. The girl said she had no regret for her act.

"I was ill and lying on the bed when he came in Saturday night," she said. "He asked why supper was not ready and I told him I was not well enough to get it. Then he ordered me to get up and close a window. I said I could not, and he struck me. He beat and kicked me and then, taking out his knife, said he would kill me. I ran around him and got the revolver and when he made a move as if he would stab me I killed him."

The position of Madelin's body when found by the police indicated that he had been deliberately fired upon from the back while he sat at the supper table. A knife was found on the body.

TUESDAY EVENING, OCT. 13, 1908.

THAT the Standard Oil Company contributld $100,000 in a lump sum to the republican campaign fund in 1904, as charged by Judge Alton B. Parker at that time, and that the money was not returned, is confirmed by an authority familiar with the details, and there is now no vociferous denial of this accusation of Judge Parker that Roosevelt's campaign in 1904 was financed by the tariff-favored trusts. On the eve of the election four years ago Judge Parker made a notable speech charging that the great corporations, the truste, were giving large sums of money to elect Mr. Roosevelt. The president was furiously angry, and made a violent denial of it and a bitter denunciation of the judge. Concerning this the Philadelphia Record says:

Now let us look at some recent disclosures. The president opposed publishing the names of campaign contributors before the election because it would prejudice the people against the party—or some party, presumably the president's party. Does any one suppose that the voters would be prejudiced against Mr. Bryan, or would have been prejudiced against Judge Parker had they known before the election who were supplying their campaign funds? On the other hand, if the trusts were financing the Taft campaign as they financed the Roosevelt campaign public distrust would be aroused by the disclosure of that fact. The very reason given by Mr. Roosevelt and repeated by Mr. Taft for keeping the names of contributors secret till after the election points to corporate support of the president four years ago and of his man Friday now. The republican party is getting all the money it needs for honest purposes and more than is good for it, but it is not getting so much as it has been in the habit of collecting. Is there any explanation of this except that a law prohibiting political gifts by corporations makes it a little more difficult now than formerly to get money from them? Judge Parker has recently stated that the Standard Oil contributed a large sum to the election of Roosevelt. Could anything be more probable than that? The circumstantial evidence vindicates Judge Parker.

THE silver lining which appeared in the Balkan war cloud a few days ago is again obscured. It may, however, prove temporary. England realizes the seriousness of the situation, and has determined to keep her powder dry in order to meet any eventuality. Prince Nicholas, ruler of Montenegro, in a bellicose message to Parliament, says the people are prepared to sacrifice their last drop of blood unless the grievance is righted. The assembly voted war supplies. Prince Peter of Montenegro, wires Crown Prince George, of Servia, that he prays God they may soon meet on the crimson field. There is danger of a dynastic crisis and an attempt to place the crown prince on the throne in Servia. The Servian Parliament has declared its support of the government. Servian customs officers have seized an Austrian customs office on the frontier and burned the Austrian flag.

THE first official electrocution in Virginia took place in the penitentiary in Richmond today when a colored man was placed in the electric chair for a brutal assault upon an aged white woman in Portsmouth. Under the present law all executions hereafter will take place in the confines of the penitentiary. This is a sensible statute, and most people hope it will ever form part of the code. The disgraceful scenes which have heretofore been enacted in cities and at county court houses where executions have taken place will not be repeated in future.

GEN SIMON B. BUCKNER, of Kentucky, who is in Baltimore, in an interview yesterday said: "I am a democrat, and, therefore, I cannot vote for Mr. Bryan. I am supporting Judge Taft." This reminds one of the time when General Mahone stated that he was a better democrat than Ben Hill and immediately thereafter voted to reorganize the Senate on a republican basis.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.

Washington, Oct. 13.

The International Congress of Inventors, claiming to represent 250,000 American patentees, is out today with a red hot open letter to Secretary of the Interior Garfield denouncing his administration of the patent office, his determination to destroy the old models thereand the contemplated sale of 301 model cases, at what is termed "a loss to the inventors and the government of $200,000." The letter declares that Secretary Garfield has made the Interior a "department of the exterior" and excoriates him in the roughest sort of language. The congress wants a revolutionary change in the patent office, including a new building constructed "with the surplus of $7,000,000 lying in the treasury to the credit of the inventors," and hints its belief that Secretary Garfield is in league with "patent pirates."

John Arbuckle, of New York, today entered into a contract with the Navy Department to save the United States gunboat Yankee, which went aground on the Hen and Chickens Rocks in Buzzards bay some time ago and which the Navy Department up to the present has practically given up as a total loss is to get $87,500, if he succeeds in salving the vessel and delivers it at the Brooklyn navy yard.

The little band of nurses in the comic opera "Algeria" with dainty red cross badges strapped to their rounded knees will have to display the insignia less prominently. The use of the Red Cross emblem in connection with anything so frivolously decorative as a silk stocking especially when said stocking is filled to the point of intoxication, has not made a hit with the heads of the National Red Cross Society, whatever may be said of the equally brilliant heads of those who favor rows A and B. An edict has gone forth to the managers of the sweet Samaritans of "Algeria" from the officers of the International Red Cross organization demanding the removal of the badges, the bands on the knees.

A number of Virginia lawyers were here today it eading several from Alexandria to hear the railroad rate cases, argued before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Preparations have been completed at the White House for the president, and several White House attaches to cast their votes at Oyster Bay on election morning. The president and his party will leave here on the late night train November 2nd. The return trip will be made as soon as the president can cast his vote and he will receive the returns at the White House after his arrival about 6 p. m.

The democrats are working to capture Wyoming. This is what Senator Warren told the president today, with the added information that while he didn't care to give figures, there was no doubt in his mind that his state would go for Taft. Senator Warren has just come from Wyoming and is en route to New York to consult with the national committee.

HAD PLANNED TO ESCAPE.

A few moments after two notorious counterfeiters had been returned to the Baltimore city jail from the U. S. District Court yesterday morning, where they had been sentenced on the charge of counterfeiting, Deputy Warden Thos. Noonan was informed that Thomas L. Bigger, one of the men upon whom Judge Morris had passed sentence, was preparing to make a dash for liberty. While Joseph Laughlin, the other counterfeiter sentenced by Judge Morris, was being taken from the courtroom to Marshal Langhammer's office he made threats against his pal Bigger, and threatened to do him bodily harm. Laughlin's action, it is said, was prompted by the fact that Bigger turned state's evidence. As soon as Deputy Noonan heard of Bigger's plans he made a search of his cell and found a kit of steel saws, with which the alleged counterfeiter had begun to work on the bars. The saws were found concealed in the iron coilwork of his cot.

Bigger was sentenced to serve 18 months in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., while Laughlin was given two years in the same prison. The two men, together with William Conners, who was given five years in the Atlanta prison last Friday on the charge of passing raised notes, will be taken to Atlanta either today or tomorrow under a strong guard.

DETROITS WIN ONE.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Chicago	2	1	.667
Detroit	1	2	.333

DETROIT, 8; CHICAGO, 3.

Detroit, by a complete form reversal, yesterday at Chicago won the third game of the world's series.

Like the previous game, the winning team seemed to be the loser until a sudden batting rally turned the tide. Detroit had appeared to be beaten beyond redemption. Bad errors had nullified the fine pitching of George Mullin and had made his finest work seem as useless as last year's batting average.

Pfiester was holding the Detroits with ease, and the team seemed a clear case of outclassed.

Then came a series of crashes, and before the Chicagos could half understand what had happened the Detroits had landed a big bunch of runs.

Chance made a serious error in the pinch. Pfiester was being hit hard and often. The man who couldn't hit him was considered almost disreputable. Pfiester ought to have been taken out in a hurry, but he wasn't. He was kept in till a fine collection of runs had passed across; and, more than that, he kept in till the Detroits made another new bunch in a later inning.

Financially, the battle of yesterday was a good thing for both the players and the management. It means more games—at least one—and it also means a great attendance at Detroit. Had Chicago made it three straight there wouldn't have been 4,000 paid admissions at Detroit today. The attendance at the third game was 14,548—certainly good for a Monday—and the receipts were $22,767 50.

Accident to Taft Train.

Sterling O., Oct. 13.—Did some miscreant attempt to wreck the Taft special just before it reached Sterling at 10:15 today or did spreading rails cause the forward trucks of the "Constitution" to leave the rails? But for the fact that the train was running at reduced speed, Mr. Taft, Governor Harris, Senator Dick, of Ohio; Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, and a number of other distinguished guests upon the candidate's car would have been either maimed or killed. As it was, the passengers in the coach were severely shaken up, as the wheels left the track and went bumping over the ties. A large iron bar was found beside the track which it is believed, by some, may have been the cause of the accident. Other railroad men were of the opinion that a spreading rail was to blame.

New York Stock Market.

New York, October 13.—At the end of the hour the stock market was universally strong with the demand increasing as higher prices were reached. After the first hour the market became quiet and without much feature except in closely held stocks.

The Thaw Case.

New York, Oct. 13.—Meeting the states shift of Harry K. Thaw from the custody of Sheriff Lane of West Chester county to that of Dr. Amos Baker, acting superintendent of Matteawan Asylum, Roger O'Mara, Thaw's Pittsburg trustee, has secured a writ from the federal court at Scranton ordering Thaw's appearance in Pittsburg. The writ may be served on the asylum authorities today. Whether or not Dr. Baker will send Thaw to Pittsburg has not been decided. It is believed probable, however, that he will go. Then in Pennsylvania habeas corpus proceedings may be begun and Thaw set free unless the courts of that state should hold him crazy.

Today's Telegraphic News

Bulgaria Demands Recognition.

London, Oct. 13.—The Balkan war cloud was still further dissipated today by representations from Austria to the British foreign office which indicate a willingness to participate in an international conference.

The representations were made through Germany and have been received by England, France and Russia. Austria reiterated her determination not to surrender Bosnia and Herzegovina, but intimates that she will allow the matter of compensating Turkey for their loss to be a subject for the conference.

A money indemnity to Turkey instead of the cession of the Sandjak of Nove-Pazar is now being proposed.

Servia would be completely placated by the cession of Nove-Pazar, but Austria is still in a surly mood toward Servia, and it is impossible to forecast at this time how she would receive such a proposal from Servia.

Sofia, Oct. 13.—To back up her threat of a declaration of war against Turkey in three days unless Turkey recognizes her independence, Bulgaria today called out all classes of her reserves. The first reserves had already been called out, but today's order included three additional classes.

The Bulgarian government believes Turkey is playing a waiting game in order to prepare for a war, and she is determined to end the suspense as quickly as possible.

The Bulgarian army is in splendid condition, and if war is to come it will be to Bulgaria's advantage to have it declared as speedily as possible.

The present indecision has paralyzed business. The ultimatum to Turkey to recognize Bulgarian independence within 3 days under penalty of war was read last night.

Engagement Broken.

Rome, Oct. 13.—"The engagement between the Duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins has undoubtedly been broken," was the announcement that issued from court circles today. The statement bears a semi-official statement, and is credited by many of the duke's friends. The breaking of the engagement is attitude to the constant discussion of the match both in Europe and America.

Rome, Oct. 13.—It was learned positively today that the engagement between the duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katharine Elkins has been broken. The duke himself made the announcement to the royal family in a telegram from Turin Saturday, the publication of which has just been permitted. At whose instance the engagement has been broken is not stated, but there is a well authenticated rumor that Miss Elkins took the leading part in the affair.

Washington, Oct 13.—Today's news from Rome, with reference to the breaking of the engagement between the duke of the Abruzzi, and Miss Katherine Elkins, is generally regarded here as authentic. A dispatch from Pittsburg quotes Senator Elkins as saying that there is no engagement between his daughter and the duke, and Mrs. Elkins is reported to have made a similar statement at her home in West Virginia a few days ago.

English Suffragettes.

London, Oct. 13.—Determined to present their wrongs to parliament a mob of men is besieging the lawmakers with a fury hitherto unparalleled. In the immediate vicinity of parliament, disorders are at their height The mobs are making furious rushes through the busiest streets, scattering pedestrians like chaff and sweeping before them all the force the police can present as though it were nothing. There is every indication that the disorder will continue all night and not a small probability that it will end in serious clashes, for never before have the mobs shown a spirit so ugly. One principal element of the danger not hitherto evident is the presence in the demonstrating throngs of a great number of the wretched "hooligans" of the poverty-stricken east end.

Vinello, of New York, has invented a heavier than air flying machine that is a radical departure from the principle of all the aeroplanes in experimentation. His machine "breathes" as he calls it. His motive power is air forced through steel tubing by two pneumatic pipe. Folding wings are used to soar through the air after ascending.

POSEYS ARE INDICTED.

Another chapter was added yesterday to the brutal Fair tragedy, when Tom, or Tuck, Posey and his wife, Minnie Posey, were indicted by the grand jury at Manassas for the murder of Edward Fair.

As a result, the spectacle will be presented at the December term of the Prince William Court of a sister, with her husband, being on trial for life for the murder of her brother.

Upon the opening of Prince William County Court yesterday morning Judge J. B. T. Thornton empaneled a special grand jury to investigate the brutal murder of Edward and Allen Fair last Thursday night. A number of witnesses were examined, among them being John and Milton Fair, brothers of the dead men, and Mrs. Edward Fair, wife of the man killed by the Poseys.

Posey and his wife were in the courtroom when the grand jury returned its findings, and they were immediately put under arrest. They gave bond for $500 each and were released.

Mrs. Posey, a frail, delicate woman, is beginning to show the strain of the terrible ordeal, but she is standing loyally by her husband. She insists that her husband was forced to kill her brother to save his own life. She makes no attempt to deny the part she took in the tragedy—that of handing her husband the axe with which Edward Fair was murdered.

Mrs. Edward Fair was not connected in any way with the awful crime except as a witness.

REMOVES STATION.

The warfare between the Southern Railway and the District of Columbia commissioners over the location of the substation—whether it shall be at Eighth street or at Fourteenth street, Washington—reached a crucial stage on Saturday night last, when the Southern, after dark, removed the station at Eighth street and Maryland avenue by tearing up the platform, and the following day built a platform and put up a stairway at Fourteenth street and Maryland avenue. Complaint is made by Virginians—commuters and others—who go into Washington from the South every morning that the change of the station subjects them to hardships in the payment of additional street car fares and inability to reach the heart of Washington as quickly as they could formerly.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Robert Smith, colored, charged with stealing a coat from Maggie Baker, colored, was fined $10.

Herbert Lomax, colored, charged with assaulting John Buckley, was fined $2 50.

John Dogan, colored, charged with assaulting George Griffin, was fined $5.

Amos Robinson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5, and James Brown, colored, charged with a similar offense, was dismissed.

CASE CONTINUED.

At a late hour last night a pistol shot was heard in the neighborhood of Cameron and Henry streets, and later Officers Gill and Ferguson ascertained that there had been a row at a dance in the neighborhood at which a young man had been struck in the face by the proprietor of the house. The young man, it was alleged, had flourished a pistol and later discharged the weapon. The offender was arrested and brought before the Police Court this morning, but the case was continued in the absence of material witnesses.

YACHT PURCHASED.

SONS OF VETERANS.

At the meeting of M. D. Corse Camp, Sons of Veterans, held last night, it was decided to attend the lecture of Capt. Woody on Friday night at Confederate Hall on Prince street. They also decided to hold a social session once a month, the first meeting to be addressed by Mr. J. Wallace Streetr, a prominent lawyer of Washington.

SILK MILL.

The factory of the Bliss Silk Throwing Co., that has been closed for several weeks, resumed operations yesterday. They advise that there is an abundance of work on hand and they will operate the factory to its full capacity as soon as the requisite number of girls and boys are secured. Mr. John Olldorf, who has been the superintendent of this factory since it was purchased by this company, will leave for Scranton, Pa., on Saturday of this week to take charge of one of their large factories there. Mr. Olldorf, by his courteous business methods, has made many friends among the business men of our city, who will be loath to have him leave. After Saturday Mr. Henry A. Ziegler, of Scranton, Pa., will be the superintendent of the factory here. It is understood that all of the five factories owned by this company are now in full operation with work ahead for the entire season.

NEW MILLING PLANT.

The milling plant now under construction for T. F. Burroughs, Son & Co., is the William Rippan system on corn milling which has proven itself to be the most successful for the past ten years and has given entire satisfaction to the trade, producing the purest and sweetest corn meal for table use and has proven to be superior over all brands of corn meal in this market. The machinery will be the very best of the latest improved and up-to-date using the automatic weighing system. The unloading capacity from cars will be 1,000 bushels per hour making ten thousand bushels per day of ten hours; grinding capacity will be twelve-hundred bushels per day of ten hours. This system has been approved by Mr. T. M. Jones, of York, Pa., who will install the machinery for the new plant. Mr. Jones has had long experience; has the honor of installing mill machinery in thirteen states of the union and coupled with practical experience will make this plant one of the best in the state of Virginia.

ROSEMONT.

Mr. R. H. Chester, formerly first vice president of the Commercial National Bank, and now president of the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railway Company, is having plans drawn for a handsome residence in Rosemont, where he will make his home when the house is completed. With such men as Mr. Chester coming from Washington to live in Rosemont, and the class of people from here who are talking of building their homes there, the future of this property as a high-class residence section for this city seems assured. Mr. Wm. M. Reardon, jr., of this city, has just purchased a lot on Rosemont avenue on which he will build his home. There have been several unavoidable delays in the improvements, but the Development Company state that they will now be pushed rapidly to completion, and before the winter weather arrives, the gas, sewers, sidewalks and shade trees will all be in.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.

A moonlight excursion was placarded to leave this city last night between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock. Very few were wise to what was going on and hence only about 50 people, mostly of the sporting element, availed themselves of the opportunity. The steamer Jane Moseley left this city at 9:30 and had not proceeded far before a ring was formed on the lower deck of the steamer and two negroes entered the ring prepared for combat. This fight only lasted four rounds. The next fight was between a white man and a negro from Washington and in the second round the white man was victorious. The main fight was between a Jew from Washington and a man from Baltimore, and in the ninth round the Jew got the decision. About 500 people availed themselves of the opportunity to see the sport. The Alexandrians reached home about 3 o'clock this morning.

FINE MOVING PICTURES.

The Elite Picture Co. presented its show last night to a large and appreciative audience. "The Pardon" and "A Strong Gale" which are very fine will be repeated tonight. The new subjects will be "The Ghost Story" and "Dot Leedle German Band." Their pictures are among the finest shown in the city. Mr. M. G. Milburn the magician will appear tonight.

"The Olympia Games in London" will be a most interesting feature in the line of moving pictures at the Opera House tonight. W. O. Busey, the well-known Washington baritone, will sing.

He confirmed the marriage settlement of $20,000 upon his present wife. One-third of the residue of the estate he leaves to his daughter, Henrietta Leterman, of Charlottesville, and the remaining two-thirds to his three grandchildren, children of Henrietta Leterman, share and share alike. DEMOCRATIC RALLY.

Seldom has the occasion arisen when the voters of the city had a chance to hear a more forceful debater than the gentleman who will address them tonight at the Opera House. In his career as a public man he has faithfully kept the vows and performed the duties essential to a stalwart democrat, never flinching when occasions required his services. Hon. Harry St George Tucker, who succeeded his father in Congress, and wore the mantle placed upon him with credit to himself and honor to his district and State, will address the citizens tonight. On the death of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee the arduous duty of president of the Jamestown Exposition fell upon his shoulders and few could have performed the duty better, no matter what the result of that enterprise. Mr. Tucker is a candidate for the nomination for governor. His ability is unquestioned, his fidelity proven, his zeal standing out in bold letters, as shown by his activity for the success of the national democratic ticket as paramount to any other issue. The speaker will be introduced by Mr. S. G. Brent, who will make his first political address of the campaign.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

In the presence of a large gathering of the order and their friends Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, last night celebrated "Discovery Day," with an interesting and entertaining musical and literary entertainment at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall. On account of the delay in the electric trains, caused by lost current, the speaker of the occasion did not arrive, but the names of those published in the Gazette of yesterday offered a progamme as fine as could be presented. The affair was presided over by Mr. M. J. McFarland, grand knight. After the exercises a handsome collation was served by Rammel Bros. and was much enjoyed. The parties taking part in the programme acquitted themselves admirably. The solos of Misses Agnes Downey and Anita Deitrich, of Washington, deserve especial mention as the encore was loud and long. Miss Deitrich was encored three times and her rendition of the "Cuckoo" song was immense and was well received. She is an artist in the profession and deserves especial mention. Miss Downey's accompanist was Miss Marguerite Curtis, of Washington; Miss Deitrich's accompanist was Miss Kathryn Brill, of this city. The entire entertainment was of such quality as to speak highly of a few features would be an injustice to the others which were just as well received. The committee in charge of the exercises deserve credit for the manner in which they entertained the enormous crowd. It is said they banquetted about 300 people.

The stage settings and directions of the programme was in the hands of Mr. A. D. Mountier and was carried out in his usual style, not a flaw appearing in the entire arrangements.

TUESDAY EVENING, OCT. 13, 1908.

BLEW HIS TEETH OUT.

In badly shattered condition and with her captain suffering from serious injuries sustained during the voyage up the coast, the little fruit steamer Joseph J. Cuneo arrived at New York from Port Antonio, Jamaica, last night.

The Cuneo had hard weather throughout much of her trip, but reached the climax of her combat with wind and wave on October 2, when she ran into a hurricane of more than usual violence. She was subjected to severe treatment during the blow, high waves smashing her bulwarks on the port side, denting three plates in her bow and carrying away her coal hatch. Water poured over her decks and tons of it found its way below. It was waist deep in the fireroom, and engine-room, and her cabin and storeroom were flooded.

In the height of the storm Captain Asmadt was badly injured while rescuing the ship's carpenter, who would have been washed overboard but for the captain's timely aid. In going to the carpenter's assistance Captain Asmadt was thrown against the main house of the steamer and sustained severe contusions of the spine and lower parts of the body.

The crew took things cheerfully throughout the period of the storm and stress and got considerable amusement out of its incidents, when Chief Mate Charles Oberg lost his new false teeth. The members of the crew declare Oberg told them that the teeth were blown out of his mouth during the hurricane.

A Story of Blackie.

Professor Blackie of Edinburgh, a martinet in the class room, was one day hearing a class with the individuals of which he was not acquainted. Presently a student rose to read a paragraph, his book held in his right hand.

"Sir," cried the professor in his autocratic way, "hold your book in your left hand!"

The student was about to speak, but the professor stopped him with a peremptory command:

"No words, sir; your left hand, I say!"

Then the student held up his left arm, which ended at the wrist.

"Sir," said he, "I hae nae left hand."

Before the professor could speak there came a perfect storm of hisses from the class, and when he did speak the hisses drowned what he said. Then he left his place and went down to the student whose feelings he had unintentionally hurt, threw his arm around him and drew him close.

"My boy," said the professor, speaking softly, yet being heard by every one in the room, "you'll forgive me that I was overwrought. I did not know! I did not know!"

Then he turned to the students, and, with a look and a tone that came straight from the heart, he said:

"And let me say to all of you that I am glad to be shown that I am teaching a class of gentlemen!"

Limitations of Practice.

In an Iowa town an action for ejectment was tried "by the court without a jury," the suit having been brought by a religious society to recover possession of a cemetery. The defendant, a physician in active practice, had bought the ground for the use of the society, but when afterward he severed his connection with the organization it was discovered that he had taken the title in his own name and evidently intended to hold on to it. After duly weighing the evidence the court ordered judgment for the plaintiff, stating briefly the reasons for the decision, whereupon defendant's counsel desired to be more fully enlightened in the premises.

"Certainly," said his honor. "In addition to what I have already said, there are but two other reasons. One is that the church seems to need a cemetery, and the other is that the doctor has failed to show that his practice is sufficiently large to necessitate his maintaining his own burying ground."
